SALES TAX—Washington residents only—add 3 per cent to cover state sales tax.

Add 25c postage for orders under $5.00.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF ORDERS

ALL ORDERS are either shipped the day following receipt here, or notice sent to the customer by return mail.

Make checks and money orders payable to MILLER DAHLIA FARMS. Cash, stamps and currency accepted only at sender's risk.

SALES TAX—Residents of Washington only add 3% to cover the State Sales Tax.

On account of the extra bookkeeping and cost, we do not solicit C.O.D. orders, but will accept such orders for amounts of over $10.00 only when at least 25% of the amount is sent with the order. All other orders require payment with the order.

Because of increased postal rates we must charge 25c postage for orders under $5.00.

No shipments will be made East of the Pacific Coast States before April 1st, except at customer's risk of damage by freezing.

Orders for Texas and the Gulf States will be made only via express before April, the express charges being added to the cost to the customer, on orders of less than $10.00.

GUARANTEE—Each root sent out is carefully inspected for soundness and eyes. They are guaranteed to be free of disease and to have one or more live eyes or sprouts, and to be true to name. In the remote case of a variety proving untrue to name a replacement will be made the following spring. Any root considered unsatisfactory by the customer will be replaced or a refund sent on its return within three (3) weeks of its receipt. As the Miller Dahlia Farms has no control over the conditions under which the roots are planted by the customer, no responsibility is assumed for any rotting or failure of the roots after they are planted or used for propagating cuttings. No further obligations than the amount paid for the root is assumed under his guarantee.

We do not offer clumps or plants, just fully matured root divisions from field grown plants, grown for nothing but the best possible stock.

Discounts either in roots of our selection or in cash to be deducted from the gross amount of the order are allowed as follows:

Orders of over $10.00.....	10%
Orders of over $20.00.....	15%
Orders of over $30.00.....	20%

The discount to which your order entitles you may be deducted in sending in the remittance with your order, or will be supplied by me in the form of extra roots of my selection in which case usually somewhat better value is given than the exact amount as listed.

No other discounts or wholesale prices are available.

IDENTIFICATION OF ROOTS—Stamped indelibly on each root is its name. This is done at the time of dividing the clumps so that there is very little possibility of a root being mislabeled.

SUBSTITUTIONS—Stock of some varieties may not be equal to the demand, and to save time and correspondence or the necessity of a refund, it is suggested the customer allow the privilege of substituting similar varieties when necessary, especially in later orders. Extra value is always given in such cases.

Latah, Wash., Sept. 9—"My dahlias from you are lovely now, and I wish you could see my daughter-in-laws' they are like dinner plates—gorgeous." Mrs. W. W.

"The Highest Quality Dahlia Roots Obtainable"

The best method of cutting for long-keeping blooms, is to carry a bucket of cold water into the garden and plunge the stem of the Dahlia into it as soon as it is cut from the bush. A knife should be used instead of scissors, as the object is to not press the stem shut, but rather leave it so that it will absorb water readily for the bloom. The cut flowers should then be placed in the cold water container, in a cool dark place, and away from any drafts, for several hours, or if cut in the evening, over night. After that they are ready for placing in your vases or other containers for display, and will keep much longer than if any other method of preparation is used. Too much foliage left on the stem will greatly lessen the keeping quality of the bloom.

After the first killing frost the Dahlia clumps should be dug and stored for the winter. If the sections where there is no frost, or where it comes very late in the year, the plants may be cut down any time and after allowing a few days for the sap to go down into the roots, the clumps may be dug and cared for the same as if they had been killed by frost. It is well to dig the dirt away from the clump and cut down with the spade all around it rather deep before lifting it out. This will cut the feed roots which may extend out as far as two feet from the stalk, and which might break some of the roots from the stalk if not cut. Any roots which are broken at the neck will probably not be any good the following spring.

The clump may be allowed to stand for a while to dry out dirt, which may then be shaken off gently. Or a gentle stream of water may be used to wash the clumps. The stalk could then be cut off close to the clump, and it is then ready to be divided or stored.

A cool, not too dry cellar is the best place for root storage, being sure it is frost proof. It does not need much below freezing to ruin Dahlia roots. Also, dry warm air will cause the roots to dry out and shrivel up, so that most of them will not grow in the spring.

In dividing the clumps, all that is necessary is to have an eye for each root saved, and these eyes are plainly visible at the time of digging, if one wishes to divide them then. This will do away with the possibility of stem rot, which sometimes spoils the entire clumps. Cut surfaces may be dusted or dipped in powdered lime or sulphur and the roots packed in boxes of fine sawdust, or even dry dirt. The name of the variety may be written on the root with an indelible pencil, moistening the surface so the writing will be permanent. This avoids the possibility of lost tags and mixed-up varieties.
